I am pleased to recommend Top Drawer Development as a general contractor. I worked with Top Drawer Development on the remodel of The UPS Store in Corvallis, and was pleased with my experience working with their team.

Throughout the project, Top Drawer Development was professional, responsive, and attentive to my concerns. Communication is particularly important during a commercial remodeling project, and I appreciated their willingness to listen to my questions and concerns, and then respond to them in a timely and thoughtful manner.

As with any remodeling project, there were decisions and issues that needed to be addressed along the way. Top Drawer Development was accessible when those situations arose and worked with me to find appropriate solutions. I always felt that my concerns were being heard and taken seriously.

Their responsiveness and support throughout the remodeling process helped make a challenging project easier to manage. I appreciated their professional approach and their commitment to ensuring that I was satisfied with the work being performed.

Based on my experience, I would recommend Top Drawer Development to other business owners seeking a general contractor for a commercial construction or remodeling project. I would also be comfortable working with them again on a future project.

Sincerely,
