

Anderson County Democratic Women's Club – Annual Meeting

Monday, November 27th

The Apple Blossom Cafe (409 Cullom St., Clinton TN 37716)

The lively ACDWC Annual Meeting was attended by approximately 30 people. We encourage all Anderson County Democrats to attend meetings, become ACDWC members, and become active in the Democratic community.

The ACDWC Board was unanimously approved and will be sworn in at the Holiday Party Dec 15th:

Ann Miller – President

Ann Mostoller – Vice President

Amanda Mantooth – Treasurer

Pat Marshall – Secretary

Regina Guy – Nominating Chair

After the election we met several local candidates:

Ashley Craven is running for Oak Ridge School Board. Her children are in the Oak Ridge schools, and maintaining the excellent quality of our kids education is paramount. She comes from a family of educators and has a deep respect for their profession and personal dedication.

Ebony Capshaw is running for Anderson County Commissioner District 6. Ebony has been involved in local politics for many years, has a deep desire to help people find solutions to problems, and is well organized and well positioned to run a good campaign.

Anne Backus is running for the TN State House District 33. The cornerstones of Anne's campaign are common sense gun laws, healthcare, education, and equality/equity for all Tennesseans. She has the drive to represent this area and the skills to keep her campaign on track.

Theresa Venable (Anderson County School Board Dist 5), David Miller (Anderson County School Board Dist 8), and Laura LaPrad (Oak Ridge School Board) were not able to attend.
