

Overwhelmed by Love

"Let us set up three tents..." [Peter] blurted this out without thinking, stunned as they all were by what they were seeing. Mark 9:6

As Peter stood in reverent wonder
And saw the radiant Christ,
The sight was too profound to ponder;
No action could suffice.
To witness Moses as the Law;
Elijah, prophet true;
Filled the three with matchless awe,
And stunned, what could they do?

To witness that the Son of God
Had come to set all free
Left James and John and Peter awed
Beyond capacity,
So overwhelmed by Christ's bright glory,
Humbled to be a part,
And so should we by Love's sweet story
That touches every heart.

We only need believe and trust,
For death and sin to quell,
For God loves sinners just like us
And came with us to dwell.
We do not need to raise a place
To house our Savior dear;
Our hearts are home for saving grace:
The love of God lives here. Patti Miller
