The goal and mission of Illusion of Difference: I as creator are to develop connections that give people what they need to heal so that the world becomes safer, more loving, and honest for all.

With political corruption, life challenges, and existential threats to all of creation, many of us are searching for new ways to feel calm, empowered, connected, loved, and safe. Illusion of Difference brings new approaches to these old and growing challenges. We are helping to develop ways to not only think outside of a box, but also create beyond our understanding of today. Below, is a short description of the approach we are currently developing.

We are energy. We are creators. We create by deciding where, how, and when to use our energy. Illusion of Difference is based on the understanding that the categories we create to define the physical world, ourselves, and each other, serve only to maintain an illusion of difference.

In other words, focusing on physical rather than energy hides that we are the same. We are energy. We create change or maintain status quo. Our difference lies in how we use our energy to either change or maintain. Our difference is revealed in where and how we choose to focus our energy.
