

Sharing Our Stories

Ancestral Healing Together for Healing

Illusionofdifference.com

We, each of us, are the storytellers and narrators dispelling the illusion of difference. Tap into your curiosity and come explore the wonders found in the common ground we all share. Add your thread to the tapestry and let's see how we all connect.

Illusion of Difference works from the business platform developed by Deborah Elandus Lake. We use podcasts, video, print, and community events to not only bring people together within the circle of life, but to also educate and provide support for people to learn new skills while sharing the skills they currently have. In the process, Illusion of Difference supports ways to share individual and ancestral stories so that we can connect to and learn from one another.
