

Love on Display

I love you today
I love you tomorrow

Forever and ever
Next to you, I'd like to decay

I want our love on display
And together, runaway

I love you with a heart of holiday joy
I love you more than a kid loves a toy

I love you with a heart full of sorrow
I love you more than anything I could borrow

I find myself coy
I stray, and our love must delay

I want our love on display
And together, runaway

My heart, I want to obey
But I find myself in constant replay