

Earth's Expectations

How does the Earth expect us to love each other
If it's filled with hate
And everyone uses each other as bait

How does the Earth expect me to survive
And multiply
If it's filled with suicide
And homicide

Earth's expectations are hallucinations

It's why I live in a box
With my own imaginations