

Bonded Mold

Our teamwork is controlled
By the love and respect,
That we cherish like gold

Together we jump through loopholes
To avoid our path's potholes and the dark, black, hallow sinkholes That nobody knows where and when to expect them

But we've created a bonded mold
Of each other's hands that we carefully hold