

Heartache Roadkill

If I died today
Can you honestly say

That your love, for me Never strayed
That you loved me,
each and every day

because I can-Always have and always will-Love you, with a tingly chill

but I must admit I wonder about you and if you truly are Meant to be
The one to my two

Or if we're headed Down a love path
of a heartache roadkill
