

Keep Flapping

He shot me- with a slingshot
Straight up to the sky
I flew- so damn high

With the smiles
Of a happy child

From the skies,
I was suddenly banned
Now, I'm on my way down
The speed is blurring my vision

My smiles, turned upside down
The crows of my eyes
Have befriended the frowns

I'm not sure where to land
Because he's no longer-
Holding my hand
I'll just keep flapping my wings
In an opposite motion
Until they have a meltdown or become a lot stronger
To change my direction