

Love In Public

We let others write a book
About the love we make in public
Just by giving one another- subtle looks

In and out of crowds
That's where we mostly find each other
Cheek-to-cheek, because it's too loud

But never leave with one another

Our love is chronic
But with its pain,
We make a toxic magic

Written in a book of love
That some might title "TRAGIC"