

Only True Love Matters

I shall never be lacking
The love that you're seeking

I've got more to give
That will forever, let you live

Words of affirmation
Affection in abundance

It will make you flattered

Records of love,
We shall create

To remember the moments
We thought we could break
But managed to stay
Together without, giving each other
A mortal heartbreak

Because true love,
Is all that would have ever mattered