

Black Heart

When my heart turned black, everyone went missing

No one around to ask how I was feeling
No one around to ask how I was breathing
No one around to ask how I was living

No one knew if I was feeling
I wasn't
No one knew if I was breathing
I wasn't
No one knew if I was living
I wasn't

I couldn't call anyone back
I couldn't bring anyone back

I was numb
In a hole of endless depth,
Emotionless
Fearless
Heartless

Everyone went missing, when my heart turned black

But I needed everyone gone, to find a path out of the obstructive rath
