

The Hymn

*My stars are dim
My skies are lonely*

*My mind is rowdy
My scars are cloudy*

Moods come and go, just like him

*The chances of him staying are slim
What's there to expect if he's grim*

*I don't care for his serenading guitar
Nor his harmonious hymn
To me, he's no superstar*

