Jan 22: (Thursday) Dr. William Gibson's Birthday today. (1813 - 1887). In 1856 a young medical doctor and his wife designed and built an estate in Jamestown, PA on the banks of the Shenango River on a 189-mile migration path between Cumberland MD and Lake Erie. Staunch Presbyterians and Abolitionists, their home was designed and built with 11 design features intended to hide and protect runaway slaves (who could hide, sleep, put on dry clothes and continue their nighttime journey to Canada) after 1850-passage of Fugitive Slave Act-and before the start of the Civil War in 1861. We will celebrate his birthday on Saturday, January 24th.
