

The Prince and The Shepherd

David left home and moved in with King Saul.
He had favor with God, and was honored by all.
Saul had a son, about David's own size.
They soon were best friends, much to David's surprise.

To honor Saul's army, there was a parade.
With dancing, the girls sang a song they had made.
They sang about David. They made him look great!
And Saul became jealous. His heart filled with hate.

Jonathan knew that his father was wrong.
And tried to explain, "It was only a song!"
But Saul ordered, "Kill him! I want David dead.
I am the king, and you do as I've said."

David enjoyed the new life that he had.
And wasn't aware that the king would get mad.
He planned to kill David! He missed his first throw.
David escaped. He had no place to go.

The prince and the shepherd, vowed nothing would part.
The love and the friendship they had in their heart.
Jonathan gave him his robe and his bow.
As a sign of their love, so that David would know.
