About Wooded Meadows Gaming

Located in Aurora, Colorado, Wooded Meadows Gaming is a small company that specializes in making accessories and novelties for TTRPGs. It was started in 2019 by two brothers, Will and Nick Musick, who love gaming and wanted to bring their ideas to life.

We started designing gaming gear when we got back into TTRPGs as adults. At first it started out with little doodles here and there, but soon we had notebooks filled with detailed schematics and imaginative ponderings. Gaming accessories and novelties ranging from simple dice boxes to unique candle designs to entire board games lines (including expansions).

Although we wish we could have all of our ideas in full production for you, we have to make sure each product is not only useful, but also high quality. And this takes time. So, we've decided to only release a few at a time, slowly transforming those imaginative notebooks into reality.

Fantasy Adventure Candles

What Is A Fantasy Adventure Candle?

Pulling inspiration from some of our favorite Table Top RPGs, we've designed each candle around a specific fantasy theme that does more than just smell INCREDIBLE. Our Fantasy Adventure Candles (FAC) combine the structural properties of paraffin wax and burning properties gel wax to create a beautiful, long lasting candle like nothing you've seen before. When lit, the burnable gel helps illuminate the entire candle, creating an enchanting visual display while its evocative scent takes you on an adventure.

What are some of the benefits of this candle?

- The paraffin and gel combination we use in our Fantasy Adventure candles allows us to utilize the benefits of both. The paraffin creates the structure for our centerpieces, allows for a higher fragrance load, and a better hot scent throw while the gel gives them a longer burn time, a better cold scent throw, allows for more stunning visual effects, and give the candles a resistance to tunneling.
- Every aspect of these candles (the centerpiece, color, scent, surrounding identifiers, and glitter color) are designed around a central theme, making them a beautiful and burnable decoration for any (and every) room.
- As part of our commitment to leave the world a better place, Wooded Meadows Gaming is working with individuals and organizations to plant a tree for every Fantasy Adventure Candle sold.
- We hand pour all of our candles, even our Fantasy Adventure Candles.
- The jars and lids we use for our Fantasy Adventure Candles are made in the USA.
- When you support Wooded Meadows Gaming, you are supporting a small business based out of Aurora, CO.

All Natural Soy Candles

Why Choose All Natural Soy Candles by Wooded Meadows Gaming?

- Our all natural soy wax candles use a newer premium soy with a lower melting point than traditional soy waxes. This gives our candles a nice smooth and creamy appearance while reducing the chances of “frosting” along the glass. In addition to this, it tends to have a stronger and more consistent scent throw.
- We hand pour all of our candles.
- When you support Wooded Meadows Gaming, you are supporting a small local business based out of Aurora, CO.
- Currently available in 12 scents, these soy candles provide a slightly wider fragrance range than our Fantasy Adventure line while still allowing for fragrance matching across lines for product uniformity.
- Like our Fantasy Adventure Candles, these soy candles also plant a tree!
- And who doesn't love the soothing crackle of a wood wick candle.

Sizes Available

These candles are only available in 1 size: 8.5oz

D20 Candles and Dice Wax Melts

Our D20 candles and our wax melt packs are available in the same 10 fragrances that our Fantasy Adventure Candles are available in, making either a great impulse purchase for those interested in testing out our scent variety at a lower price point.

Our Dice Wax Melt packs are a great way to freshen up the scent of any room. Not only do they look incredible, but they allow you to easily adjust the level of scent you want. Simply select the number of dice you add to your wax melter.

This pack comes with d20 and scent identifier wax melts in a heat sealed kraft bag.

Our D20 candles are made of approx. 1.5oz high melt point paraffin wax and burn for around 4 hours. This burn time is dependent on the environment it is burned in. For optimum burn time burn in a cool room, on a level surface with minimal air movement.

An important note, these should be burned on a fire-resistant nonporous surface (preferably a saucer or candle disk), some wax spillage may occur.

We are currently redesigning our wax melts.

Currently available in the following fragrances: Health Potion, Mana Potion, Love Potion, Dragon's Blood, Hag's Cauldron, Long Rest, Magician's Library, Fireball, Goodberry Bush, and Greater Restoration. See scent descriptions in Fantasy Adventure Candles or All Natural Soy Candles for scent descriptions.
