From Robin Rose, REACTA President

I know that Zenith has had a rocky start in their transition. My husband and I were in the last group to finally receive new Anthem ID cards and we are now reflected on the Anthem website. Let's hope this issue is in the rear-view mirror.

REACTA has also received questions about life insurance policies that were continued by many employees upon retirement. We have reached out to Zenith and CTA for clarification since our quarterly billing statements have not landed in mailboxes yet. Per Zenith, the insurance billing statements will be ready to be mailed out this week. CTA is the life insurance policy administrator and we have been assured that no one's life insurance will be cancelled for non-payment during this transition. If, for some reason, someone slips through the cracks and there are non-payments, those individuals will be notified prior to cancellation of their life insurance coverage.

Happy Thanksgiving wishes to everyone. May your home be filled with laughter and happiness as you celebrate the holiday with family and friends.
