UN.. “Convocation of Parliament of Man”

Human civilization has seen some ideologies clamoring for power, adopting aggressive approach and tried to conquer the world.

India being one of the ancient human civilizations of the world, has on the contrary, took to a humanitarian approach of mutual co-existence. Hence it declared to the world that the whole world is one family.

Yes, It was India's vision to see “the United Nations as the Convocation of Parliament of Man”. Expressed by the leader of Indian delegation to the San Francisco Conference in 1945. Sir Arcot Ramaswamy Mudaliar in his address on the floor of the UN went ahead and said UN to be the Federation of the World. This was not a political slogan, but a deep-rooted spirit of oneness to spread the message that world is one family.

This has remained a dream even after 75 years of UN's birth. World Constitution and Parliament Association which originated from Sri Aurobindo's prophesy of “World Union” has been relentlessly striving to reach this goal.

WCPA aims at the establishment of a non-military democratic world governance system under the Constitution for the Federation of Earth, so that the world without war can come into being. This will help nations to find solutions to their problems through cooperation. Through its programs WCPA is involved in integrating all nations for common human welfare.

The time will come.....

This part of history has missed the attention of the world. Mr.V Molotov, the head of Russian delegation to UN conference in 1945, made an interesting observation : “We have at this Conference an Indian Delegation. But India is not an independent state. We all know that the time will come when the voice of an independent

India will be heard, too.

Nevertheless, we share the view held by the British Government which suggested that representatives of India should be granted a seat at this Conference, imperfect though her status is.”

Now, indeed the time has come for Independent India to voice its mission and take lead in bringing peace in the world.

Article 109(3) of UN Charter

The formidable Trio who made it happen..

Indian Delegation to UN conference at San Francisco in 1945 had 3 eminent personalities: Sir A r c o t Ramaswamy M u d a l i a r (middle), Sri V T Krishnamachari (left) and Sir. Firoz Khan Noon. India was not in favor of a system backed by veto power. After much persuasion relented only when Art. 109(3) was enshrined in the charter, which provided for the Charter review. This now has come as a blessing in disguise. The wording of this Article is: "Art 109(3): If such a conference has not been held before the tenth annual session of the General Assembly following the coming into force of the present Charter, the proposal to call such a conference shall be placed on the agenda of that session of the General Assembly, and the conference shall be held if so decided by a majority vote of the members of the General Assembly and by a vote of any seven members of the Security Council."

As anticipated, this provision was never invoked in the last 75 years. WCPA has been striving to achieve a democratic World Governance system under a Constitution for the federation of Earth.

Now the time has come for India to take the lead again by invoking this provision to realise the goal set by its forefathers in 1945.

Founders of WCPA..

" I have long believed the only way peace can be achieved is through World Government. "

Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru

-Former Prime Minister of India

Sri. Aurobindo's World Union created hope and chartered a path for the well-meaning members of the movement. Prof. Philip Isely, who was the forerunner in the movement for a democratic world governance system, along with Sir Reinhart Ruge of Mexico, founded the World Constitution and Parliament Association in 1958, in Colorado State, USA. World union as an international organization was set up in 1958 under the direct guidance of the Mother from the Aurobindo Ashram at Pondicherry, to work for the Human Unity and the World Peace and Harmony on the spiritual foundation as envisioned by Sri. Aurobindo, and "that the WCPA was also founded in 1958 as an international organization to achieve the same goal in its own way."

The Earth Constitution....

The Constitution for the Federation of Earth was written through the combined effort and input of hundreds of world citizens, including many international legal experts over a period of 23 years (from 1968 to 1991).

At the first Constituent Assembly in Interlaken, Switzerland in 1968, the delegates elected a drafting committee of 25 persons, which included a prominent Indian Mr. Godey Murahari, former Deputy Chairperson of Rajya Sabha. In 1972, five primary authors from this committee completed the first draft. Three of them were Indian region. WCPA and all its affiliated organisations are promoting a democratic World Governance system ie "The New UN under The Constitution for the Federation of Earth". This will make world peaceful where every country can work for its own welfare with mutual support among nations

In 1972, five primary authors from this committee completed the first draft:

Philip Isely, a visionary philanthropist from the United States;

Dr. Terence P. Amerasinghe, an international lawyer from Sri Lanka;

Hon. S. M. Hussain, a Justice at the Supreme Court of Bangladesh;

D. M. Spencer, a Professor of Law in Mumbai, India; and

Dr. Max Habicht, a prominent international lawyer from Switzerland.

It is also interesting to note that these three prominent people are from the Indian region of the South Asia.

“God bless this Earth Constitution -Dr. Robert Muller Assistant Secretary General of the UN for 38 years and supporter of WCPA

Interestingly though, India has made contributions to the development of the Earth Constitution.

Real Sovereignty is when..

“Giving power, rights and independence is difficult, but can be managed if one has good understanding of what independence is” The Chairman of the Argentine delegation had said: “We hope to create a democratic community of nations where juridical equality and respect for the sovereignty of states shall be the basis of its constitution.” In the process of looking for world governance, no country would wish to give up its right. They even need not if they really understand the meaning of sovereignty as put forth by Sir Arcot Ramaswamy Mudaliar: “We talk of independence. We talk of sovereign rights -- I am one of those that believe in sovereign rights--but I believe the world has come to a stage when the emphasis is not to be so much on independence as on interdependence.

Sir.Arcot Ramaswamy Mudaliar

Thus Spoke Indian PM

“The World is becoming more and more interdependent. Developments in communication, problems of equitable distribution of the world's natural resources and the common dangers posed by the increase in the conventional and nuclear armaments demand that mankind must act as one. A just international order is inescapable necessity for man's survival. Such an order must rest on equal respect for all nations as well as equal opportunity for each people to develop to its fullest potential. Enlightened representative's of nations must develop international convention's which will make it possible for all Sovereign Nations to cede some of their powers out of their free will to international institutions in the confidence that their dignity and just interests will never be compromised.”

Provisional World Parliament...

The Provisional World Parliament is the main organ developed to date under the authority of Article 19, which directs the people of Earth to initiate Provisional World Government. Other aspects of the Provisional World Government are being activated, such as the Collegium of World Judges.
