JUST TO KNOW...

AMERICANO

Born in the famous Camparino Bar in Milan, was invented in 1860 and was the first cocktail served in Italy as a Drink. The name was given in honor to Primo Carnera, the boxer who beat Jack Sharkey at the Madison Square Garden of New York in 1933, winning the World Boxing Championship. Italians celebrated his back to Italy with this Cocktail

NEGRONI

Orange colored cocktail invented in Florence between 1919 and 1925 from the famous barman Luigi Scarselli, in honor to Conte Camillo Negroni, who was used to ask him for an "American Cocktail with Gin"

NEGRONI SBAGLIATO

Negroni Sbagliato means "Wrong Negroni" and has been casually invented in 1969 in Milan, by Mirko Stocchetto owner of the famous Bar Basso. Generally bartenders place bottles always in the same place, so to find them immediately when needed. One day a customer entered Bar Basso and asked Mirko for a Negroni. Mirko got the three bottles needed, but when he started to pour he realized that in his hands there was Prosecco instead of Gin. The customer asked to continue and nowadays the all of us can appreciate this well balance cocktail, born by mistake.

SPRITZ

The name "Spritz" originates from "vino sprizzato" which means "sprayed wine". Born in Venice in 1919, the story tells that during the First World War, Austrian soldiers who arrived in Italy were used to drinking beers at a lower alcohol level than the Italian wines. So, they started to add soda to soften and decrease Prosecco, the typical Italian wine of the region that borders to Austria. Over the years standard alcohol levels have been reset, and nowadays we serve Campari or Aperol Spritz
