

REASONS TO CONSIDER

High Growth Potential

Electric vehicles could account for 55% of global vehicle sales by 2035, up from a 16% share in 2023, due to electrification efforts by automakers, government policies, and technology improvements.⁽¹⁾

Advancing Clean Technologies

EVs produce zero direct emissions. Broader EV adoption could result in reduced greenhouse gas emissions and improved urban air quality. Advances in autonomous driving could also enhance road safety.⁽²⁾

Unconstrained Approach

This theme is bigger than any single company. DRIV invests accordingly, with global exposure across multiple sectors and industries.

Shares of ETFs are bought and sold at market price (not NAV) and are not individually redeemed from the Fund. Brokerage commissions will reduce returns. Beginning October 15, 2020, market price returns are based on the official closing price of an ETF share or, if the official closing price isn't available, the midpoint between the national best bid and national best offer ("NBBO") as of the time the ETF calculates current NAV per share. Prior to October 15, 2020, market price returns were based on the midpoint between the Bid and Ask price. NAVs are calculated using prices as of 4:00 PM Eastern Time. The returns shown do not represent the returns you would receive if you traded shares at other times. Indices are unmanaged and do not include the effect of fees, expenses or sales charges. One cannot invest directly in an index.
