

WORD TO THE WISE on ANY GIVEN NIGHT

Rosalinda stood by the door with her best dress on
Waiting for her Romeo to come along save her
She dreamed a life far way from here.
She wished upon a star to hear...

On any given night, every thing changes
In any given fight, things may turn around.

Romeo had his boys, he was king of the block.
In his heart he held his flower and like a rock he'd told her
He knew he loved her so he had to find a way show her
But he knows that Nothing comes for free.

-CHORUS-

Rosalinda's hubby came home and he hears the sound.
Up stairs there's something happening, there's love going down.
He stood he cried he took his gun out from his side
Shot Romeo straight into the heart.. and everything was dark.

-CHORUS-

On any given night, every thing changes
In any given fight, things may turn around.

Just another word to the wise... Everything changes.