

Women in Construction NM 2020 Sponsorship Campaign

Women in Construction NM is excited to be celebrating its second year as an organization helping promote women in the construction industry in New Mexico. We had such an exciting year in 2019 including our first event in February with over 70 attendees, as well as 5 networking events, 4 luncheons with topics specifically relating to women in the construction industry and 2 philanthropy projects with The Barrett House and SAFE House both of who assist women in need.

To continue providing these amazing opportunities for women in the construction industry we need your help. We have found in our inaugural year, that many businesses that employ women and work within our industry have been expressing their desire to sponsor Women in Construction NM events. In response to these requests we have created various annual sponsorships levels for businesses and individuals. These sponsorships are a great way to help you promote your business, your employees and yourself as leaders in our industry. All the sponsorships include a set amount of memberships for you and your employees, admission to our luncheons, networking events and our Christmas Party at the end of the year, and your company name and logo on our website and social media announcements. Please review the attached sponsorship levels and the link below to register and pay for the sponsorships. Please feel free to email <mailto:wicnewmexico@gmail.com> with any questions.
