Theophany - Blessing of the Waters

Theophany is the feast which reveals the most holy trinity to the world through the baptism of the Lord, when God the father spoke from heaven about the son, and the son was baptized by St. John the Forerunner, and the holy spirit descended upon the son in the form of a dove. In commemoration of this event, the great Blessing of Water is performed on this day, and the holy water so blessed is used by the local priest to bless the homes of the faithful.

The Lord was baptized, not because he himself had need for cleansing, but, according to St. John of Damascus, "to bury human sin by water, to fulfill the law, to reveal the mystery of the holy trinity, and to sanctify the nature of water and to offer us the form and example of baptism."

From ancient times this feast was called the Day of Illumination and the Feast of Lights. It was the custom to baptize catechumens at the Vespers of Theophany, so that baptism also is revealed as the spiritual illumination of mankind.

On the feast of the Baptism of Christ, the holy church proclaims our faith in the most sublime mystery, incomprehensible to human intellect, of one god in three persons. It teaches us to confess and glorify the holy trinity, one in essence and indivisible. It exposes and overthrows the errors of ancient teachings which attempted to explain the creator of the world by reason, and in human terms.

"Let the thirsty wilderness be glad, let the desert rejoice, let it blossom as a rose. Let it blossom abundantly; let everything rejoice. Go to that water, oh you who thirst. With joy draw the water out of the wells of salvation." After the blessing of the waters it is customary to fill containers to take some holy water home with you.
