On St. Thomas Sunday

“For this is of faith, to receive things not seen; since Faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen (Hebrews 11:1). He pronounces blessed not the disciples only, but those also who after them should believe. The disciples saw and believed. Yes, but they sought nothing of the kind, but they straightway received the word concerning the Resurrection, and before they saw the body, exhibited all faith. When therefore anyone in the present day say: “I would that I had lived in those times, and had seen Christ working miracles,” let them reflect, that, Blessed are they who have not seen and yet have believed.”
-- Saint John Chrysostom
