Description

Art2 Foundation is a California-based nonprofit organization that believes art has the power to connect cultures, inspire communities, and create meaningful social impact. We support artists and community-based art projects around the world, with a particular focus on underrepresented regions and cross-cultural collaboration.

As our programs continue to grow, we are seeking passionate volunteers to help identify funding opportunities and develop compelling grant proposals that will support our international arts initiatives.

Position: Art & Communications Intern

Location: Remote

Time Commitment: 3–8 hours per week (flexible)

Volunteer Position

Responsibilities

- Develop and implement a social media campaign strategy in line with Art2 Foundation's mission and programs
- Draft and schedule engaging content across platforms (Instagram, TikTok, etc.)
- Interact with our audience through comments, messages, and stories
- Edit photos and videos to make them visually appealing and on-brand

- Track basic engagement metrics to understand performance and improve content

Qualifications

We're looking for someone who has:

- Strong interest in art, design, or communications.
- Excellent writing, organizational, and communication skills.
- Familiarity with Instagram, TikTok, Canva, or AI video tools.
- Detail-oriented and proactive; able to meet deadlines independently.
- Students in art, communications, marketing, or related fields are encouraged to apply.
- Fluent in English. A second language is preferred.

Ideal Background

Students, graduate students, or professionals in:

- Communications
- English or Journalism
- Arts Administration
- International Development

How to Apply
