I took this picture in Walla Walla, Washington. The image actually matched the reality of what I was seeing and what I was...feeling! Peace, serenity and balance. Mother Nature can provide us with the most glorious examples of the beauty that is all around if we just look at what's right in front of us. Dance in the moment and look at what is right there; right now! From that place, allow your mind to wander, like mine did, to the possibilities and hope that exist. No noise, no distractions, just unadulterated and natural "goodness". When you can apply this to recognizing a different perspective, you can often start to see the path in a more visible manner... this is all part of the Papa Perspective!
