

Bandelier, Los Alamos & Cliff Dwelling NM Tour

Tour schedule 2024

Just 35 miles distant across the Rio Grande Valley, along the Sangre de Cristo range, the Jemez Mountains form the Southern most tip of the Rocky Mountains.

We want you to sit back and enjoy the breath taking scenery as your Chauffeur takes you, through the Los Alamos countryside and Bandelier National Monument region of Northwestern New Mexico. There you will find beautiful look out spots and travel point-to-point taking in the scenery through all the conveniently created trails of ancient cliff dwellings, breath taking vistas, jagged pathways and natural waterfalls that await you.

Concierge New Mexico has put together a day tour to take you and your party out to enjoy the fresh air and explore some of the natural and most beautiful scenery that New Mexico has to share!!

The scenic trip winds through ruins of an ancient civilization, high -tech Lab energy center (Bradbury Science Museum), traditional pueblos and collapsed center of a long-dormant volcano!

We have a timed tour so you can explore all the best highlighted sites of natures wonderous creations! Puye Cliffs Dwellings are the ruins of an abandoned pueblo located in Santa Clara Canyon and Tsankawi, a detached part of Bandelier National Monument, is undeveloped and unexcavated. A 1.5 mile trail follows centuries-old paths through the area where the ancestral Pueblo people lived. Cave dwellings, petroglyphs, and the site of Tsankawi village can be seen from the paths.

Concierge New Mexico can customize your day so that you get to see what you want to enjoy and relax all in one special package for you and your party! Call us to schedule your tour today at (505) 316-1100.
