

EL SALVADOR SURF CLINIC

March 2026
$2075

Transform your surfing in world class waves

WITH SURF COACH ANDRES RENNELLA

Spring in L.A. can be brutal! Cold water, strong winds and bad waves. Luckily for you and I there's away out. An all inclusive scape to a warm water paradise called El Salvador

If you rather surf 75° water and empty lineups than checking a blown up, crowded Surfline cam from home just to decide to skip it (AGAIN!) then this trip is for you! Come train and surf in one of the most consistent surf destinations in the world. During this 7days/6nights surf clinic you will be able to immerse yourself in the essentials to develop your surfing, and learn how to keep yourself surfing optimally while enjoying good weather, fresh food and a beach stay.

Included:

Transportation
Airt - Surf House - Airt
and to all surf breaks

*Accommodations

2 meals/day

Performance oriented stretching every morning

2 Filmed surf sessions with video review analysis

In-water coaching

Accommodations

We will be staying in a beautiful surf house steps away from the beach in Km59, a small town that eats and breaths surfing, located in the Province of La Libertad. Hostel style shared rooms are included but private rooms can be arranged for an extra cost.

Transportation

Airport - home base - airport transportation will be provided when arriving/departing on suggested date.

Waves

K59 is a great beach area and offers insane right waves with great tubes and clean sections. There is also K61, right point break which is only 1/4 mile away from K59 and offers great waves with long rides and barrels. K59 area is surrounded by beautiful mountains and ancient forest.

Surf coaching

Come with an intent to improve the fundamentals of surfing. Break your bad surfing habits, learn methods to move better & feel better and have a hell of an experience. Through daily movement, breath work, and stretching protocols to make sure your body can move athletically, to video analysis, wave reading, and surf technique coaching, this trip will give you the tools to continue improving your surfing for life.

"Working on this trip with Andres has turbo-charged my development as a surfer. Not just in learning the basics of wave-riding technique, but in more subtle skills like reading wave patterns, proper paddling and positioning, and safety and awareness in the ocean"

ALEXI P.
