Dear Sir/Madam:

I am applying for a position in one of the following roles: content developer, technical writer, writer for print or online media, adjunct instructor of English, or creative writing. I am a creative thinker, storyteller, effective communicator, writer, and longtime English teacher with a desire to continue my passion of writing or nurturing other writers.

Although my main career over the past two decades has been in education, my writing career brings the most fulfillment. Over a nine-year period, I developed content and published 11 educational resources for improving writing among Grades K-12 students, and two children's fiction chapter books. To market what I produce, I create web-content, audio, and video scripts, as well as technical or 'how to' writing. As a literacy coach, I lead training sessions, provide pedagogical support to teachers, and support my administrative team with implementing school-wide initiatives. As part-time independent educational consultant, I create presentations along with corresponding workbooks to facilitate both virtual and face-to-face interactive professional development sessions.

During 2020, the world shifted, and I leveled up to the challenge to teach and conduct professional development and coaching sessions via online portals. The 2020-2021 school year solidified many of my online learning and teaching skills. As an on-line student myself, I interact with the nuances of online learning.

The journey along the Master of Fine Arts in Creative Writing with Full Sail university continues to strengthen my creative process. I have a clearer understanding on how to edit and create for the entertainment world. This experience also adds to my traditional writing skills. In addition to writing articles, criticisms, and stories, I am now versed on how to produce contemporary writings for blogs, videos, podcasts, film, TV, theatre, and social media.

I navigate different genres, and I work well with exploring writing ideas in a team setting. Whenever the opportunity arises, I impart knowledge and skills that contribute to the development of others.

If given the opportunity, I will add value to your creative space. I am available for an interview at which time I can provide more details and context of my experience, qualification, and passion. In the meantime, I am attaching my resume for your review. Feel free to reach me at the above address, or e-mail marthajwatts@yahoo.com, or Tel: (321) 266 -9737.

Respectfully,

Martha Joseph Watts, Ed.D
