A Reflection on Sunday's Word You Are Chosen By God

Our relationship with God begins entirely with His divine initiative.

As Jesus reminds us in John 15:16, "You did not choose me, but I chose you." In a world where so many of us go through life longing to be valued, appreciated, and accepted, God established His love for us before we were even formed in the womb. We did not find God; He found us. We did not pursue Him; He pursued us and called us His own royal priesthood.

However, we must remember that we are not just saved to sit in the pews, we are saved to serve. Throughout history, God has consistently chosen unlikely, ordinary people to do extraordinary things. He used Joseph to preserve His people and called Moses to lead them to freedom. Today, that same divine plan and purpose resides inside of you.

As God's chosen generation, we are entrusted with a sacred mission to make a tangible impact on the world around us. We are called to be His hands and feet: bringing healing where there is hurt, offering hope where there is discouragement, and shining a bright light into the darkness. Take comfort in knowing that you do not have to rely on your own strength.

If God has chosen you for a task, He will faithfully equip you with everything you need to accomplish it.

Weekly Reflection: Chosen & Equipped
Grab a notebook and take a few quiet minutes this week to reflect on these three questions:

Chosen: In a world where we strive to fit in, God chose you before you were even born. How does it feel to know that God actively pursued you?

Called: We are not saved to just sit in the pews—we are called to serve. Who in your life right now needs the hope, healing, or light that God has placed inside you?

Equipped: God uses ordinary people to do extraordinary things. What is a task ahead of you that feels too big? Practice letting go and trusting God to give you the strength to handle it.
