A Reflection on Sunday's Word

Reflecting on Our Nation: A Call to the Heart

As we reflect on our nation, we are reminded that America's greatest blessings come from belonging to God.

True freedom is not simply the right to do what we please, but the grace to follow Him, love our neighbors, and seek justice.

If Jesus spoke to our nation today, His message would be the same as it was 2,000 years ago:

"Come to Me, follow Me, and be ready for the Kingdom of God."

He wouldn't focus on political parties or wealth, but on our hearts, asking us:

"What does it profit a man to gain the whole world and lose his own soul?"

His Message to Us Today:

To the Church & Believers:

Return to your first love.

Are we truly living out our faith, or just talking about it?

His calling remains clear: Follow Me.

To the Leaders:

Are you serving others or seeking recognition?

Are you building God's kingdom or your own?

To the Next Generation:

Do not worry about tomorrow.

Stop searching for meaning in things that cannot satisfy.

Jesus is still the Way, the Truth, and the Life.

To the Busy & Burdened:

If you are weary or carrying the weight of past failures, hope is not lost. Forgiveness is available, and He promises rest.

Let us teach our children to hunger for God's Word, live out our faith with action, and remember that our greatest citizenship is in the Kingdom of Heaven.

"Be ready, for the Son of Man is coming at an hour you do not expect."

Together In Faith

Journaling Activity

The State of My Heart

What does it profit a man to gain the whole world and lose his own soul?

Take a few quiet moments to cut through the noise of the world and honestly answer these four questions before God.

1. My First Love:

Jesus asks, "Do you love Me?"

In what areas of your life have you been mostly talking about your faith rather than truly living it out?

- Write: What is one practical step you can take this week to return to Him as your first love?

2. My Burdens:

Jesus says, "Come to Me, all who labor and are heavy laden."*

What temporary worries, anxieties about tomorrow, or past failures are you carrying right now?

- Write: List them out, and consciously hand them over to the One who holds tomorrow.

3. My Kingdom:

True freedom is found in following Christ, and our greatest citizenship is in the Kingdom of Heaven.

Are you using your time and resources to build your own kingdom, or God's?

- Write: What does it look like for you to love your neighbor and seek justice in your community this week?

4. My Legacy:

How are you teaching the next generation to hunger for God's Word and value hard work?

- Write: What is one way you can actively model a life of faith for them today?

Prayer:

Lord, examine my heart. Forgive my failures, cut through the noise of the world, and help me simply hear Your voice today saying, "Follow Me." Amen.

Fruit of the Spirit

From Galatians 5:22-23

Love

We are called to love others as Christ loved us. This means putting the needs of others above our own. Consider how you can show love to those around you today.

Joy

Joy comes from the Holy Spirit and is a deep-seated contentment that can be present in any situation. Pray for the joy of the Lord to fill your heart and mind.

Peace

When we trust in God and give Him control of our lives, we can experience a peace that the world cannot offer. Ask God to help you find peace in all circumstances.

Patience

Patience is the ability to endure difficult situations with a calm and peaceful attitude. Pray for the patience to wait on the Lord and trust in His timing.

Kindness

Kindness is the willingness to show consideration and care for others. It is an expression of love and compassion. Look for opportunities to show kindness to those around you today.

Goodness

Goodness is the quality of being virtuous and doing what is right. Ask God to help you be a light in the world.

Faithfulness

As believers, we are called to be faithful and loyal to God and to His Word. Ask God to help you be faithful in all areas of your life.

Gentleness

Gentleness is the quality of being kind, caring, and understanding. Pray for the gentleness of Christ to be evident in your words and actions.

Self-Control

Self-control is the ability to control one's thoughts, feelings, and actions. It helps us to make wise choices and to resist temptation. Ask God to help you grow in self-control.
