

Speak up for Syrians

Idlib, Syria is under constant attack from Russian aircraft and planes in the air force of dictator Bashar Assad. 600 people were killed in Idlib last month. Hospitals are targeted. 25 medical facilities were destroyed in May.

We call for:

- Turkey to reopen the border for refugees
- the Trump Administration to allow in Syrian refugees
- The U.S. to use its radar to warn Syrians on approaching air attacks
- The closing U.S. airports to Aeroflot, the Russian airliner
- Donations to Syrian doctors via MedGlobal
- International justice organization to draw up lists of Russians involved in war crimes
- Members of Congress to speak out

Learn more about this 7 p.m. Sat. June 15 at the Parish House of the United Church on the Green, 323 Temple St. We'll also talk about the situation in Iran and Trump's war threats. Free.
