

CORPORAL TOMMY ANDERSON

7th Battalion The Northamptonshire Regiment
Service number 15290

Killed in action 18 August 1916, Delville Wood, Somme, age 21

Buried Delville Wood Cemetery, Longueval

Born Great Brington January 1897

Parents George and Mary Anderson of Whilton Road, later 73 Great Brington

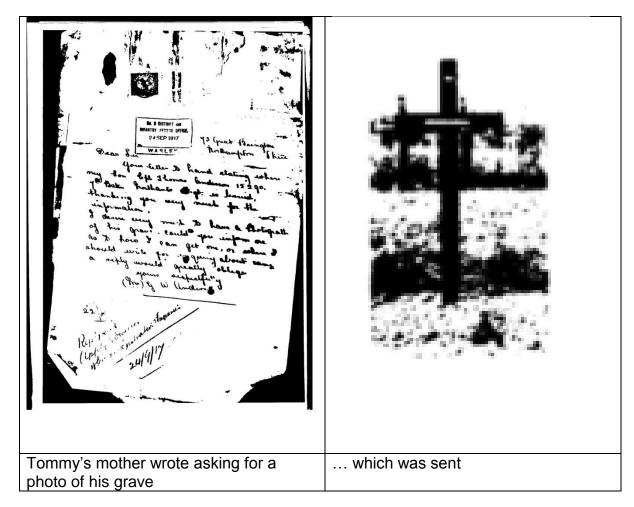

1914-15 Star, Victory Medal, British War Medal

William Thomas (Tommy) Anderson appears in the 1901 Census aged 4, with his brothers John and Henry and sisters Elizabeth and Annie. By 1911 the family had moved around the corner to 73 Great Brington and had grown to include Walter and Elsie. Tommy's occupation then was 'general carrier's assistant'.

Tommy enlisted for Short Service – 'Three years with the Colours' - at the Northamptonshire Regiment Depot on 7 September 1914, giving his age as "19 years 8 months" and his occupation as bricklayer when his true age was only 17. His obituary appeared both in the Mercury and the Herald on 15 September 1916 and again in the Independent on 30 September, when his true age on enlistment was given correctly.

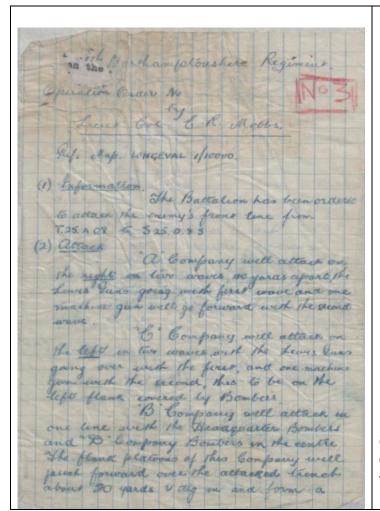

Tommy joined the 4th Battalion which embarked for France in August-September 1915, and would have gone through the Battle of Loos in which the Battalion was fed into the line unrested and unprepared and suffered heavy losses. He was obviously highly thought of because it appears he had his first stripe within the year before he left for France and his full corporal's second stripe within the next.

He was killed on the Somme in the 24th Division's attack on Guillemont on 18 August 1916, one of many such battles in the Somme Offensive.

Tom's brothers Jack and Henry both served and survived.

The following are extracts from the 7th Northamptons' war diary for that fateful attack:

Page 1 of the Commanding Officer's Operation Order – Lt Col Edgar Mobbs' orders for the attack.

... and C Company's report afterwards.

"At ZERO 'C' Company moved in two waves on the left of the Battalion sector and advanced on a front of 100 yards. Very few casuaties were suffered until the first wave arrived within 20 yards of the enemy trench. The enemy then offered much resistance, throwing a considerable number of bombs. The trench was rushed and the enemy was seen to be retiring ... Much trouble was caused by bombers from a small strong point about 40 yards to the left of the QUARRY and also by snipers from the mound directly behind ... By this time all the Company Officers were casualties and the Company was under command of a Corporal. There was no shelling by the enemy. Casualties were caused by our own guns. .. By 7pm everything was fairly normal."

The (67 Bm. NORTHAMPTONGHIRE REST.

"C" Company movements in Attack.

"C" Company movements in Attack.

At ZERO "C" Company moved in two waves on the left of the Battalion sector and attacked on a frontage of 100 yards. Very few camualties were suffered until the first wave arrived withing 20 yards of the enemy trench. The enemy then offered much resistance, throwing a considerable number of bembs. The trench was rushed and the enemy was seen to be retiring towards the Station. Much trouble was caused by bombers from a small strong point about 40 yards to the left of the QUARRY and also by snipers from the mound directly behind the QUARRY and also by snipers from the mound directly behind the QUARRY. The latter were killed by bombers.

By this time all the Company Officers were casualties and the Company was under the command of a Corporal.

There was no shelling by the enemy. Casualties were caused by our own guns.

The work of consolidation was then begun the Company digging in about 60 yards beyond the enemy trench on a small ring the guns were pushed out to cover this work.

Shorely afterwards reinforcements arrived under an officer wh took command.

By 7 p.m. everything was fairly normal.