Community

The Open Table Movement was born from one church's chance encounter with a homeless man in 2005. Today it is a nationally trained model equipping faith and other organizations to transform communities through sustainable, long-term relationships with people experiencing economic and/or relational poverty. The Open Table model gives community members a way to invest their own social and relational capital in the lives of others to help them achieve the better lives they envision for themselves.

From Transaction to Transformation: How to Go Beyond Giving Our Stuff to Giving Ourselves

A "Table" is 6-12 volunteers working alongside an individual or family in need for approximately one year. Together they develop and implement a customized LifePlan that can empower the individual or family to live into the human potential God gave to them.
