We Treat A Full Range Of Dermatological Conditions

Dermatology is the practice and study of preventing, diagnosing, and treating skin conditions that can occur in the human body, including hair and nail issues. From skin cancer to psoriasis to acne, our team is available to accurately diagnose, treat, and manage your condition on an individualized basis.

The primary focus of dermatology is prevention and screening. This leads to early detection of skin diseases, which means quicker and more effective treatments. We use the most innovative and trusted technology to achieve accurate diagnoses. We'll work with you on appropriate treatment options based on your unique skin composition, condition, and preferences. All of our work is done with aesthetics and comfort in mind.

If you struggle with a skin condition, skin blemishes, or simply want to maintain your skin health, our providers are ready to address any concerns you have.

Regardless of the skin care you're seeking, a skin care specialist from one of our offices can provide you with compassionate, skillful care. Our staff here at First Georgia Dermatology & The Cosmetic Laser/Skin Care Center is excited to help you begin your journey for healthier skin.

We treat the following common skin conditions in our practice, plus many more. Call us to schedule an appointment today!
