With the recent changes of her previous employer, she now has been given an amazing opportunity to continue this work under her own direct leadership. She is highly respected and admired by many orphanages in China and by Holt International which has coined her “a saving angel to the children”. Because of these connections, Holt has teamed up with us to allow “Huang ma ma” as the children so lovingly call her, to continue her mission, and as an avenue for others to be able to directly help her financially. All proceeds will go directly to usage for the children ie. clothing, supplies, rent, utilities, nannies, teachers, physical therapist, and psychologists. It is our belief that God wants Lily to continue this work on some level, and she continues to feel called by the Lord to love on and support these children with all of the special talents He has given her. Thank you for coming here and reading this. By doing so you have become part of a larger family and a greater cause and our hope is that you would be able to contribute in some way if not monetarily than in prayer. Thank you truly from the bottom of our hearts.

Lily's House

About 17 years ago Lily Huang began her long quest to give up a life of possible material wealth and success to help orphans in China. Being a college graduate, like many of her friends, she had multiple avenues to start her own business, but she instead chose to work for the least of these, special needs orphans in China. When asked why, she commented, “because I love children so much and they need someone to help them”. All these years she has worked with several organizations, and through these years she has gained things more priceless than wealth could ever provide, a multitude of close friends all over the world and the knowledge that over 130 children have been adopted to loving homes and given hope and a new life!
