

Income Protection for Farmers and Ranchers

Your work is active and hands-on. With long seasonal hours in unpredictable weather conditions, many consider farming and ranching labors of love. But have you ever thought about what might happen if you became sick or hurt and unable to work? Health Insurance doesn't cover everything, so how would you pay your uncovered medical and monthly living expenses if you experience an income-interrupting disability due to illness or injury? Disability Income Insurance (DI) from Illinois Mutual could be the answer.

Why DI Is Important to You

Being physically able to operate heavy equipment, tend to animals and harvest crops is demanding work vital to your livelihood.

You may be prone to disability because of the general labor-intensive nature of your job duties that can wear on your body over time. Exposure to harmful chemicals like pesticides and fertilizer or regularly operating heavy equipment can also present health risks.

DI pays you a monthly benefit when you can't work due to a Total Disability¹ caused from illness or injury, offering you necessary time to recover and get back on your feet.

Acreage and Herd Size Option

To make getting DI coverage easy, Illinois Mutual allows you to use acreage or herd size to determine the monthly benefit amount available whether or not income can be verified by tax returns.

FARM SIZE (ACRES)	AMOUNT (MONTHLY)
200+	Up to $2,000
350+	Up to $2,500
500+	Up to $3,000

HERD SIZE (HEAD)	AMOUNT (MONTHLY)
24-49	Up to $2,000
50-74	Up to $2,500
75+	Up to $3,000

Protection for Your Business

If you own your farm or ranch as a business, Illinois Mutual has a plan for that, too! Our Business Expense Power[®] (BE) policy can help protect your business if you become Totally Disabled. As a business owner, you may even qualify for additional benefits and discounts. It's just another way we're here to help you protect your income and your future.

Why DI with Illinois Mutual?

Meet budget-conscious Tom. He told his Illinois Mutual agent that he understands how DI offers peace of mind but had concerns about the overall investment if he never needs to make a claim. His agent recommended including a Return of Premium (ROP) rider on his policy. With ROP, as early as age 65, he can get his money back, less any benefits paid or pending. It's a win-win: peace of mind that he has DI coverage if he needs it and money back if not.²

Tom's agent also told him about Illinois Mutual's Guaranteed Insurability Option (GIO) rider. Now Tom has the additional peace of mind to know that he doesn't have to redo the medical underwriting process when his salary increases. Tom is glad to know he has an agent who will help him regularly review his financial plan as his needs change.³

²From ages 65 to 67, the policyowner is eligible to receive a refund of 100% of policy premiums paid, less any benefits paid or pending. Beginning with the fifth policy year, the policyowner is eligible to receive a portion of the premiums paid, less any benefits received. The policy ends after the return of premium is paid and may not be reinstated. The Return of Premium rider is not available in CT and MA.

³Additional coverage may be purchased up to five times every two years prior to age 55 after the policy has been in force for two years. A purchase may be accelerated in the event of a life change (marriage, death of a spouse, divorce, or birth or adoption of a child). Each option is subject to earnings qualifications.

“

Illinois Mutual has not only met my expectations but has exceeded my disability claim expectations with the compassion and concern for me as an individual with this life-changing event of my health and livelihood.
