

Random Acts Of Christmas Kindness

“If you cannot do great things.. Do small things in abundance!”

Every Year I paint a hundred or so Pins, and gift them away to total strangers. Whomever I feel, is in need of a little Christmas Spirit. So this Is Your Challenge for this year..Make a few or make hundreds... share them with anyone that you believe could use a little kindness this holiday season. Give freely, give often and give with a generosity of spirit! A Random Act Of Christmas Kindness.. is also a gift you give yourself.

Merry Christmas

Micheals Crafts

2.5 Inch Popsicle Sticks, Wood Glue, Dimensional Holly Stickers,(Ribbons or small Bells or whatever you like), Glue Gun and Glue, Pin Backs

To Begin:

Brush wood glue onto a 2 inch wide Strip of Heavy Card Stock. Lay 4 popsicle Sticks into the glue and fit them snugly together. Leave a 1/2 space and repeat in groups of four sticks. Let the glue dry well. With sharp scissors, separate the small panels and trim them closely. Glue a stick horizontally across the small panels, (I like a jaunty angle) This forms the Brim of the Hat. Let it dry well.

Base coat the Brim of the hat and everything above it, with Lamp Black. Base everything below it with Warm White.

Add two black Dots for eyes. A stroke of Burnt Orange for the Nose, and a few small dots for the mouth. Let it dry well. Dry brush the cheek with a little Country Red. Shade under the brim of the hat, down the left side of the face and along the bottom with a float of thinned Asphaltum. Add dots of Warm White to the eyes and the cheek for a highlight.

Add a little of the Snow tex to the brim of the hat with the Snow Writer. Let it dry. Brush the entire snowman with a coat of the Craft Twinkle.
