

What happened before....

after Deianera freed Philomena from Hades' captivity, they both returned to Lemnos. Deianera was about to confess her love to her beloved princess, when suddenly, out of nowhere, Hades, who was believed dead, appeared and grabbed Philomena ...

Full of anger and rage, Deianera attacks Hades, brought back to life by his divine superpower, to free Philomena. She was afraid that Hades would kill her beloved princess immediately, now knowing that she would never become the mother of his son, to give him the power to kill Zeus and rule Olympus.

Hades knew about the strength of Deianera, weapon master of the Amazons. He quickly knocks down Philo and faces Deianera for the fight.

Deianera had already defeated him once in a fair fight. That was not going to happen again.... Despite Zeus' prohibition, he would use his divine super power to kill Deianera.

PRINCESS OF THE AMAZONS

The noise of battle wakes Philomena from her unconsciousness and she understands that she and Deianera cannot win this fight...

She sees Deianera get hit by Hades' fire beam and fall to the ground. Realizing that there is only one way left to defeat Hades. She must ask the mother goddess of the Amazons for help. Artemis!

Philomena jumps up and runs to the bronze statue of the goddess Artemis. Being a princess of the Amazons, she has the right to make a wish ....

One wish only !

She must save Deianera....

PRINCESS OF THE AMAZONS

Seconds later, a white glowing figure stepped directly out of the bronze statue. Artemis, the patron goddess of the Amazons, had heard Princess Philomena and spoke to her in a gentle voice:

What is your wish, daughter?

ARTEMIS hear me !
The princess of the Amazons asks for her rightful wish !

I beg you, mother of all Amazons .... Save Deinara's life and banish Hades back to the kingdom of darkness. He has violated the laws of Zeus !

These are TWO wishes, daughter ! For the second wish you have to pay a price.

I will pay it... whatever it is! But save Deianera and protect Olympus and the world from Hades!

So it will be, daughter !

Artemis stands protectively in front of Deianera lying on the ground and saves her from the last deadly attack

"With the power granted to me by Zeus I punish you for your treachery Hades ! Abandon your plan and be banned to hell for 1000 years !"

With these words a blue/white lightning bolt shoots out of her hand towards Hades. Badly hit, he sinks motionless to the ground and disappears in the lightning...

After Hades disappears, the goddess turns round, walks towards the throne of darkness and mounts it.

She looks benevolently at the two Amazons standing before her and speaks to them with a gentle voice....

"Your rightful wish has been granted Princess Philomena and your beloved Deianera has been saved. Now hear the price you must pay for the second wish:

You and Deianera will travel to Egypt for me and retrieve a sacred object stolen from me by the magician Imhotep. I cannot go there myself... other gods rule there. But I will grant you powers that will help you to fulfill your task.

Come to me, daughters!"

PRINCESS OF THE AMAZONS

With these words Artemis rises and leads the two Amazons to the well of the goddess

She speaks the magical words to give Philomena and Deianera the promised powers:

"I grant you the strength of the tiger and the speed of the gazelle, the eyes of the eagle and the courage of the wolf.

Use them only to accomplish your task...or else you will lose them ! "

With these magical words, she slowly disappears in a white mist, leaving the two women alone.

They hold each other tightly in their arms and Philomena looks deep into Deianera's eyes and speaks:

" When we were united with Artemis.... I could see and feel your great love for me ...."
