We can live in the presence of God now, with proper prayer. Receiving answers to our prayers builds our faith and when shared, with those around us. But as James 4.3 states, “You ask for something but do not get it because you ask for your own pleasures.” God is only interested in providing answers to prayer that build our understanding of His will for our lives.

To receive answered prayer we do well to follow the example Jesus gave us: living holy, studying His word, living in peace with each other, having compassion and love for our neighbors, praying in private, focusing on God, giving Him the honor and thanks He already deserves.

God works with us where we are in faith and understanding. He sent the Holy Spirit to help us understand. He promised that we will never be tested beyond our strength. He said our corporate prayers are heard and answered on behalf of people we reach out to in love and compassion provided we agree and are at peace with each other, believing our prayers will be answered.

Sin will block God’s ears to our prayers. So study His word, live as holy as you can, keeping His commandments, loving your neighbor, keeping God in your thoughts constantly, to help you. Then pray again tomorrow, tell Him your heart, and ask the Holy Spirit to intervene.
