

Lemon Verbena

Aloysia citrodora

Lemon verbena is one of the most strongly scented and intense of the lemon scented plants. It is used in making perfumes & soaps, as well as flavoring for cooking. Both the leaves and flowering tops are used –either fresh or dried. It's considered a tender perennial. Full sun, moist soil. A great plant for bees!