

Fimbriata Dutchman's Pipe

Aristolochia fimbriata

A fascinating little Dutchman's pipe with beautifully patterned mini-waterlily like leaves. Small pipe shaped flowers and watermelon-like seed pods. Fun to grow and a must for every butterfly garden. It is a host plant for the Pipevine Swallowtail Butterfly. They lay their eggs on the leaves, the caterpillars hatch and devour the leaves – then the plant comes right back for more. Tough – moist, well-drained soil. Grows anywhere – sun to shade.
