

Coralbean

Erythrina herbacea

Hardy, drought tolerant native shrub that bears tall 36” spikes of bright red tubular flowers in summer followed by 8” bean-like pods that split open to expose scarlet-red seed. Spectacular! Full sun or part shade. Good drainage. Butterflies, hummingbirds. Normally goes dormant every winter. Can reach 6’x3’ each season. Tolerant of clay, sandy, acidic or calcareous soils.