

Ghost Plant

Graptopetalum paraguayense

A great succulent that is as tough as it is beautiful. Survives freezing temperatures, drought and just about anything else you can throw at it. Good for containers, rock gardens or hanging baskets. Thrives on neglect! If sufficiently neglected it may even produce clusters of ½" star-shaped white flowers. Full sun, part sun, part shade.