

Heidi Sheesley of Treesearch Farms

Leucothoe or Agarista

A very special native evergreen large shrub for understory conditions or full sun. The plant is stunning in the spring with thousands of extremely fragrant tiny white bell-shaped flowers hanging from the limbs. Leucothoe can be kept pruned to any size as a very thick shrub or it can be allowed to grow up into a tall graceful multi-trunk 8'-12' shrub or "tree". The new growth is a pretty blush-pink. Sun or part shade. Moist, well drained soil.