

Heidi Sheesley of Treesearch Farms

Bamboo Muhly Muhlenbergia dumosa

A striking native grass with delicate airy foliage on narrow bamboo-like canes. The canes grow in graceful, arching clumps 4'-6' tall. The overall grass has a graceful, light, airy cloudlike appearance & is stunning in any landscape, whether as a single specimen, in a grouping, or in large decorative containers. It's also wonderful in fresh & dried flower arrangements. Drought tolerant once established. Does best in well drained, fertile soil. Full sun.

