

Luzon Viburnum

Viburnum luzonicum

This lovely viburnum has it all – spring flowers in abundance, soft, natural shape and texture, fall color that holds on the plant (it is never completely bare), and red berries for the birds! Prefers growing in understory conditions or morning sun. Can grow 10' x 6', but you could prune to keep it to your desired height. Looks best “unmanaged” and left alone to grow naturally in a woodlands type setting.
