

Like

Tweet

+1

Dan Rather  @DanRather · 1d

There is something magical about putting pen to paper, watching a thought that originated in the synapses of the brain flow through a chain of being that ends with indelible ink. I hope it is ever thus.

From punishing to pleasurable, how cursive writing is looping back into our hearts

washingtonpost.com

Hello, Friends!

As we head into everyone's busiest season, we have a number of great opportunities for autumnal activities. If you follow us on social media (and if you aren't, PLEASE DO!) you'll know that our popular Cursive Camp was featured in the Washington Post of 9/2/18. (Click here if you missed the article.)

We could not be happier to be keeping the Cursive Conversation going beyond our young campers, so this fall we're holding two special nights of Cocktails & Cursive for the over 21 set! Keep reading below for details!

There's a lot happening at YOUR home for local history, keep reading and see all the great things we have in store for you as the leaves begin to fall!

Cocktails & Cursive

Never learned to write in cursive? Need a refresher before you address and sign all your holiday cards? Or maybe you just want a really fun and unique night out with your friends learning and practicing your handwriting. Join Cathy Johnson (teacher for our summer camp) and museum staff and make art, have fun, have an adult beverage, and be part of the #CursiveConversation.

There will be two separate sessions, $20 each, Friday October 19 and Friday November 16 from 5 -7pm.

Please check our website and social media feeds for all the details and registration, or call the museum at 203.743.5200 for more information.

Saturday, September 22, 2018

We are pleased to once again be participating in Smithsonian Museum Day. Just go to Smithsonian magazine and sign up for a pair of free admission tickets to museums all over the country--including the Danbury Museum--for this special day. We'll be accepting both paper tickets and electronic tickets from 10 - 3pm on Saturday, September 22.

Archives After Dark

Our ever-popular Archives After Dark is Friday, October 26, from 7-10 pm.

Join us for a fun night of search and research--photos, and subject files and microfilm, OH MY! We'd be grateful if you'd let us know in advance what you're researching so we can have things assembled for you.

Quilt Raffle!

You still have plenty of time to get your raffle tickets for our Drunkard's Path quilt made by our own Joretta Kilcourse. Tickets are $5 and available at the museum and from members of the Friends of the Danbury Museum.

Save the Date! Get your glad rags on and join us!

YOU ARE INVITED

Friday, January 25, 2019
The Amber Room Colonnade
6:30 p.m.

A special shindig with dining and dancing to benefit the Danbury Museum & Historical Society

©2018 The Danbury Museum & Historical Society | 43 Main Street, Danbury, Connecticut 06810,
United States

Web Version

Preferences

Forward

Unsubscribe

Powered by GoDaddy Email Marketing®