Switch Off JOURNAL

Hello!

Let me ask you a question: when was the last time you switched everything off and simply sat, purposely switching off from the world? Don't worry if it's been a while!

These days, we live in a world of screens, social media, and information that is instantly available, from pretty much anywhere. This means that, even if we feel like we're relaxing, our brains are constantly on the go. We are always stimulated by some kind of information.

It's time to switch off!

The point of this journal is to get you to switch off for 10-30 minutes everyday for 45 days! You can then record your "switch off" time for reflection and to see how beneficial it has been for you over time

On the next pages you'll find instructions on how to use this journal. After that, it is over to you.

Enjoy switching off!

How To Use This Journal

- Choose a time of day when you're least likely to be disturbed
- Choose a quiet place where you'll be comfortable and relaxed.
- Choose a few things that might make your switch of time nicer.
- Set a timer for between 10-30 minutes (don't watch the clock)
- You might find it hard to switch off to begin with. So, you might like to start with 10 minutes a day and build up over time.
- Take some deep breathes and relax.
- Just sit and take note of how you feel, what you see, and what you notice. You'll probably find you noticed more about yourself and your surroundings during this time.
- Try not to look at any screens, read, watch or listen to anything during this time unless 100% necessary.
- If you need to, listen to calming music. Maybe coloring or doodling might help, too.
- Fill in the journal pages each day to help you reflect
- Fill in the quick log pages to help keep track of your progress.
- Use the pages at the back if you need more room for reflection
- Try and switch off every day for 45 days.
